ADDITIONAL COMMENTS: There is always room for improvement, and since the SJVC Board only meets four times per year, it is difficult to achieve the involvement in college policies and operations that would be more optimal. Given that restriction, I believe the Board of Governors plays an effective role in giving the college questions, opinions and guidance on topics brought before it affecting college operations. When the Board is asked for its approval, I believe that most of the time the college provides sufficient information on which Board members can base their decisions.
